INTRODUCTION

THE REGISTERS

This transcription of the Clifton Parish Registers covers the years 1813-1837. It ends in December 1837 at the start of Civil Registration. The transcription has been divided into two parts.

The original Registers for this period, which were in the church when it was burnt in the air raids of 1940, are in the following six volumes.

- 1 Burials 1813 - October 1824, bound in leather with paper pages, 16 pages of index, a title page and 200 pages of text. Each entry is written by the officiating minister. This volume was damaged when the church was bombed, the binding is blackened and singed and the spine and parts of the leather are missing. The pages are undamaged.
- 2 Burials October 1824 - June 4 1847, bound with a cardboard cover with a leather spine, leather corners and, on the front, a red leather square with gold lettering - "Clifton Parish, Burials" - The pages are paper with 34 pages of index, a title page and pages of text numbered 1-300 and 1-200. The spine is missing and only fragments of the leather remain.
- 3 Baptisms January 1813 - 5 December 1824, bound in leather with paper pages, 30 pages of index, a title page, six pages of "An Act for the better regulating and preserving Parish and other Registers of Births, Baptisms, Marriages and Burials" and 200 pages of text. This volume is badly singed, the leather is missing on parts of the front and back and the spine is burnt away. Each entry is signed by the officiating minister.
- 4 Baptisms 1824 - 1844, bound in leather with paper pages, 38 pages of index, a title page, six pages of the Act (see above) and pages of text numbered 1-300 and 1-300. Each entry is signed by the officiating minister. The covers are lined inside with blue marbled paper. The spine and parts of the leather including the title page are burnt away.
- 5 Marriages 1813 - July 1837, bound in leather with paper pages. 20 pages of index, title page and pages of text numbered 1-200 and 1-253. Each entry is signed by the officiating minister. This volume is bound in leather with a damaged spine. A title square on the spine is in red leather with gold lettering - "Marriages 1813-1837." Above this "No 6" is written in ink on the brown leather.

- 6 Marriages July 14 1837 - December 4 1844, bound on the shorter side with a green cardboard binding with paper pages. Each entry is signed by the officiating minister. The covers are lined with red and blue marbled paper. The spine is burnt away. There are seven pages of index, a title page and 250 pages of text.

The Title pages for the first five registers read as follows:-

BISHOPS' TRANSCRIPTS

The registers have been checked against the Bishops Transcripts which exist in some parishes going back to the late 16th century. In Clifton during the period covered by this transcription they are complete except for a very short time.

The earliest existing Bishops' transcripts in Clifton are for the year 1695 and there are also some covering about 33 years of the 18th century.

Very often the scribe made a guess at the name when the writing in the register was difficult to read. Changes to the register were sometimes made after the Bishops' Transcripts were written so the alterations do not appear in the transcripts, for example the change of age for Frances Savage does not appear in the Bishops' transcripts.

On July 7 1821 the marriage entry in the register is unsigned by the couple but the Bishops' Transcripts give not only their signatures but also a second witness. This is strange because the register contains the original signatures of all concerned in the other entries and is therefore not a copy of a previous document.

In this transcription the Bishops' Transcript version is given if differing from the original in any way.

THE MINISTERS

The vicar of the parish of Clifton during this period was the Reverend James Taylor. The curate was the Reverend John Hensman, after whom Hensman's Hill is named. In 1831 John Hensman signed himself Minister of Trinity Church, Hotwells. There were other curates appointed to the parish for shorter periods among whom Thomas Allies, Robert Allwood, S.O. Attlay, William Carpendale, Thomas Conolly Cowan, Francis New, Henry George Walsh, and John Warne, were the most active. Other clergymen, whose parishes are always stated, also officiated at some marriages, burials and baptisms.

A list of these ministers can be found in the Appendix on page 321 (part 2).

REGISTER OF BAPTISMS

The number of baptisms in the parish between 1813 and 1837 shows a rapid increase each year rising from 62 in 1813 to 264 in 1837, a four-fold increase. The fact that the burials only doubled during the same period as did the population of Clifton which increased from 6,984 in 1811 to 12,032 in 1831 and 14,177 in 1841. This seems to point towards some zealous curates in the parish rather than a rise in the birth rate of 400%. On January 11 1826 the Reverend William Carpendale baptised 82 children and young adults. One can picture the scene in the church on that day. He must have been an especially conscientious clergyman and this will account for the extremely high figure on the chart for baptisms in 1826 while he was a curate in the parish (p.xii).

Christmas Day was often chosen for baptisms, the holiday from work enabling the parents to bring their children to the church.

The Register of Baptisms gives more details than the Burial Register because it gives the names and addresses of both the fathers and the mothers and also the fathers' occupations. A list of the latter is given in the index of occupations on page 273 (part 1.) It should be understood that this index does not show the number of people in each occupation in the parish because, for example, one surgeon might have had several children baptised and therefore his name and occupation would recur several times. Changes in occupation occur occasionally, for example Henry Jefferies of Berkeley Court, described as a labourer in 1831 but a carpenter in 1832. Also John Sprague, who was described as a brewer living in Wellington Place in 1829, was described as a servant in Portland Place in 1832.

Apart from the triplets mentioned in the burials, who although they were possibly baptised at home are not recorded in the Register of Baptisms, 17 pairs of twins were baptised between 1813 and 1837.

REGISTER OF BURIALS

The charts on pages xi and xiii show the numbers of burials between 1813 and 1837 and the numbers of deaths for each year of life as shown in the burial register. Infants and children under five continued to have the greatest mortality rate. Death in childbirth may account for the slight rise in the female death rate between the ages of 15 and 44 compared with the male death rate shown on the chart (p.xi).

This transcription covers the cholera epidemic of 1832 when 59 people from Clifton & Hotwells died. It became apparent to the authorities that the lack of sanitation, dirty houses and contaminated water were the reason for the cholera epidemic which recurred again in 1849. The high death rate among babies was also partly caused by diarrhoea from the dirt and filth in which they lived. Only the larger houses in Clifton had piped water and most people relied on wells which were easily contaminated by sewage. Cesspools often overflowed and John Latimer writing about a field in front of West Clifton Terrace, now the site of Alma Road, said that several sewers met there and as a result the sewage collected over a wide area. There was also a similar state of affairs at the back of Park Place and Richmond Terrace. Whiteladies Road and other thoroughfares had open gutters for drainage from the houses.(L)

After 1849 the authorities put into practice the improvements that had been suggested after the 1831-2 epidemic but this is outside the period covered by this transcription.

During two winters a higher than average number of deaths occurred in the Poor House both of infants and of elderly people. Eight in November to February 1829/30 and six in November to February 1836/1837. The weather may have been unusually bad. John Latimer records that the month of January 1830 was remarkable for a protracted snowstorm which blocked the roads in all parts of the country and in 1837 the spring garden produce was destroyed by repeated frosts. (L)

Accidental causes of death can be seen in the list of 36 burials after Coroner's Inquests on pages ix and x. Many of these were due to drowning, as one would expect in a parish so near the port and the River Avon. Twenty-eight cases of drowning are recorded between 1813 and 1837.

No burials are recorded for January 1818, perhaps there were no burials that month, or perhaps the pages have been lost.

The strangest entry was the "woman from Dublin on board the Saint Patrick Steamer pack'd in a box." The probable explanation is that she died towards the end of the journey and was placed in a box for a coffin, rather than being buried at sea. Nine strangers whose names were unknown and four abandoned infants were found in the parish and were buried in the churchyard. Mrs Stowell threw herself into the river to commit suicide. Two died on board ship, Catherine Hyde during her passage from Ireland and Abraham House on a steam packet.

Two sets of triplets were born and died in this period, Faith, Hope and Charity Long and Henry, Mary and Martha Burman. The latter set died within three days and Faith and Charity within three weeks. Only Hope clung to life until she reached the age of six months. Two-day-old twins, Esau & Jacob Hisgrove, were buried in July 1815. They had not been baptised in the church. Twenty-eight illegitimate children were recorded as being baptised or died between 1813 and 1837.

Addresses were included in the first months of the first Burial Register but after that they were all omitted and the parish given only if it was other than Clifton or Hotwells. In the second Burial Register the street was very often given and when not given it is stated whether the dead person had lived in Clifton or Hotwells.

REGISTER OF MARRIAGES

The number of marriages taking place each year in the parish remained fairly constant with an increase of only 17 between 1813 and 1837. This does not parallel the actual rise in the population which was taking place during the same period. (see p.iv) The parents' names and addresses are not given in the 1813-1826 register but they are given in the 1826-1837 and the 1837-1844 registers. It is possible to guess some of the names of the parents from the witnesses to the marriage. The only names actually given are where the sons or daughters were under age and consent had to be granted by the parents or guardians, whose names are then stated. Twenty-seven marriages required consent in this way.

Occupations were given and these can be seen in the Index of Occupations on page 286 of Part 2. Again, as with the occupations in the register of baptisms, this list does not indicate the number of people in each occupation in the parish (see page iv).

The marriage partners appear to have been advised to sign with a cross if they found writing difficult. Some, who could hardly write, wrote their names and a note has been written in this transcription indicating where the writing was extremely bad. No similar note has been made for the witnesses whose writing was very often nearly illegible. One of these, Samuel Peglar, frequently acted as a witness in spite of his poor handwriting.

It is interesting to study the signatures of the partners to the marriages and to see how the number of those unable to write decreased between 1802 and 1837.

1802 - 1812	- 1092 people of whom 244 were unable to write - 22%
	(88 men, 156 women)
1813 - 1825	- 1361 people of whom 204 were unable to write - 15%
	(76 men, 128 women)
1826 - 1837	- 1424 people of whom 132 were unable to write - 9%
	(37 men, 95 women)

NOTES ON THE TRANSCRIPTION

Part 1 contains the Baptisms and its indexes.

Part 2 contains the Burials and Marriages and their indexes.

THE REGISTER OF BAPTISMS

An example of the format used in the original register is given on page 1 (Part 1) of the transcription.

From page 2 onwards the headings are omitted although the word "Minister" is inserted before the names of the officiating clergymen. and the words "Curate" or "vicar" have been omitted. "Hotwells" was sometimes written as "Hot Wells" and "Hotwell Road" as "Hot Wells Road", in this transcription it is always written "Hotwells".

THE REGISTER OF BURIALS

An example of the format used in the original register and the headings for each column can be found on page 1 (Part 2) of the transcription.

Under column 2 the word "Clifton" has been omitted until 1826, because all those buried were either living or staying in Clifton unless otherwise stated. In 1826 the street names were included in the entries in the Register and Clifton was distinguished from Hotwells, so from 1826 onwards these have been transcribed as written.

Under column 4 the words "year" or "years" have been omitted.

Under column 5 the words "Reverend" and "Curate", where written, have been omitted in this transcription.

The numbers of each entry which are written in the margin have been omitted

THE REGISTER OF MARRIAGES

An example of the formats used in the original registers are given on pages 86 and 212 (Part 2) in the transcription.

In this transcription "this parish" is replaced by "Clifton". The word "minister" before the name replaces "officiating Minister", which was written after the name of the minister in the original.

The words "curate", "assistant curate" and "vicar", which were written beside the names of many of the ministers in the register, have been omitted in the transcription. The minister sometimes signed with his initials but in this transcription the christian name is written, where known.

The word "Witnesses" replaces "in the Presence of" in the original and "Hot Wells" and "Hotwells" are both transcribed as "Hotwells". "City & County of" and "Diocese," where written, have been omitted as also has "Gloucestershire" if placed after "Clifton" in the original.
